

Join the Queue and Make a Stand for Sanitation & Water – March 23, 2010

Join a Guinness World Record attempt – and help solve a global crisis at the same time.

Come to Capitol Hill at 1pm (exact location on attached map) and be part of the global action to make a stand for sanitation and water. Students, teachers, educators, politicians and celebrities will be on hand to join you in line!

We will provide the photographer, the toilets and the Queue (as well as music, games and refreshments!)

So put it on your calendar. Spend your lunch break with us on March 23rd to demand action to save lives!

World Water Day, is a crucial moment in the fight against the world's largest environmental health crisis that's killing 4500 children every single day.

The World's Longest Toilet Queue is a mass mobilization event and Guinness World Record attempt bringing together thousands of campaigners from across the world to demand real change at the meeting.

Be a voice for the poor and vulnerable around the world who lack access to the basic necessities of water and sanitation.
